Jetstar Asia Expands VTL Services

Phuket, Clark, Manila, and Perth to Singapore will be designated VTL flights, offering more opportunities for fully vaccinated customers to enjoy quarantine-free travel.

Jetstar Asia’s Phuket to Singapore VTL service will commence operation from 2 March with up to four services a week, followed by the introduction of six weekly VTL services from Clark and seven weekly VTL services from Manila from 4 March.

Following the recent announcement that Western Australia will reopen its international borders from 3 March, Jetstar Asia will relaunch services from Singapore to Perth from 11 March, with up to four weekly services where the return flight to Singapore will be a designated VTL service.

Jetstar Asia’s CEO, Bara Pasupathi, said this was a welcome announcement, adding to the strong momentum of Jetstar Asia’s recovery.

“It’s great to offer our customers more opportunities for quarantine-free travel to incredible destinations, something they’ve missed so much over the past two years,” Mr. Pasupathi said.

“Key Southeast Asian cities, such as Clark and Manila, are such critical links in our expanding network, while Phuket and Perth are incredible leisure destinations, offering customers the opportunity to take a much-deserved break.

“With the introduction of more VTLs, combined with gradual relaxing of quarantine measures for vaccinated travellers and the transition from PCR tests to the less costly ARTs, consumer confidence is improving, and international trips are once again back on people’s radar.”

In line with local government requirements, only fully vaccinated passengers (exemptions apply to passengers 12 years and below) who meet all the necessary VTL conditions can travel on designated VTL flights.

To celebrate the launch of these new services, Jetstar Asia has launched a network-wide sale, including the four new VTL services, from 14 February until 25 February, unless sold out prior.

Fares between Singapore and Phuket start from SGD49, from SGD109 between Singapore and Clark, SGD135 between Singapore and Manila, and SGD179 between Singapore and Perth.

Travel periods for the sale vary per route. Fares and full conditions are available at jetstar.com.
